McLaren Introduces NextGen Turf Series Rubber Tracks for Track Loaders

Torrance, CA, August 18, 2010 - McLaren is pleased to introduce the NextGen Turf Series of turf-friendly rubber tracks for compact track loaders. NextGen Turf Series rubber tracks are perfect for applications on golf courses, parks, and any landscaping work that would benefit from turf protection.

While many construction pros drool over rubber tracks with aggressive traction for their advantages in a variety of construction applications, landscapers frown at the site of aggressive traction pattern on rubber tracks.

McLaren Industries introduces the NextGen Turf series of rubber tracks specifically for landscaping professionals who need a smooth tread and reduced ground pressure. NextGen Turf tracks leave a much lighter footprint than conventional tracks and reduce damage on delicate turf areas and various irrigation systems deployed underneath.
