

McLaren Appears on Norman Schwarzkopf's World Business Review Television Series on CNBC

PRESS RELEASE

Dec-01-2006 (Boca Raton, FL) --- Multi-Media Productions (USA), Inc. announced the appearance of McLaren Industries on World Business Review hosted by General Norman Schwarzkopf.

When construction and delivery vehicles are down for any length of time because of tire trouble, this can result in costly time and productivity losses. In this segment of World Business Review, McLaren Industries discusses how tracks and tires help contractors and equipment owners maximize the ROI in their equipment and reduce downtime.

George Zafirov, Marketing Director, McLaren Industries explained, "If you run a business in the competitive construction industry, equipment downtime can be detrimental to your business. If your machine is down because you have a flat tire, or a broken rubber track, or you sink in the mud due to lack of flotation, your business is losing money by the minute. With McLaren tires and tracks you can reduce downtime and operate more efficiently even in the harshest surface conditions."

Coordinating producer Eb Stonestreet added, "When researching the latest developments in small equipment tracks and tires, McLaren Industries consistently came up as being in touch with the most current advancements in this area. They were a natural to appear on this edition of World Business Review."
